"Reform is now a craze in Georgia remarks a contemporary. The Georgians seem to know what they need.

Roosevelt once said there are "good trusts and bad trusts." After experience in sorting them out, he will please tag the good ones.

That Minnesota scientist won't ever scare a Georgian, when he predicts that "we are to die of thirst." Before any man will die of thirst he will patronize a blind tiger.

Prof. John Graham Brooks says: "A rich woman can buy a husband as she would a pound of tea." If the professor konws any rich woman who wants to take in a husband as if he were only a pound of tea he will please sing out.

Secretary Taft, Vice President Fairbanks and other Republican "expectators" must feel bad to realize that the Republican push, by insisting on Roosevelt for a third term, intimate that the Republican party has only one man worth their attention.

Under the severe knocking which Mr. John D. Rockefellor gets, most men would get grouchy and sullen, but Mr. Rockefeller keeps cheerful and every now and then tells the balance of us how to keep our heads up above water and pull for the shore of happiness, success and wealth.

Observes the Charlotte Evening Chronicle: "A new use for the telephone was found by a Cheyenne justice the other day, when he tried and fined over the telephone two defendants who were fifty miles away. Verily we are living in a fast age." The telephone sometimes tries all of us. This is no joke.

Mr. John D. Rockefeller repudiates an alleged interview criticizing the Roosevelt administration, and Mr. Frank Rockefeller repudiates an alleged interview in which he is reported to have said that his brother, John D. is a monster. Journalism like that is equal to the most infamous transaction the government has had cause to tackle.

THE HEARINGS BEGUN

Standing Master Montgomery In New York to Take Testimony in Railway Case.

STATE FARMERS' ALLIANCE

Annual Meeting at Hillsboro Elects Officials and Passes Resolutions on Variety of Subjects—Other News From State Capital.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., August 15.—The hearing of Standing Master W. A. Montgomery in the case of Southern Railway Company vs North Carolina Corporation Commission and Attorney General involving the constitutionality of the North Carolina 2 1-4 cent passenber rate act, began in the offices of the Southern in New York today and Chairman Franklin McNeill and Chief Clerk Henry C. Brown of the Commission are present. Along with them went ex-Judge James E. Shepherd, of counsel for the Commission and State. Other counsel for the State who will attend are W. E. Daniel, Weldon; J. E. Woodard, of Wilson, and Messrs. Winston & Bryant, of Durham. There will be a sitting of the master's court in the Southern offices at Washington very probably before the party returns to aRleigh.

C. H. Mebane of the State Department of Education has gone to Newton to take part in the unveiling of a Confederate monument tomorrow. Hon. Locke Craig will deliver the principal address.

The Shaw Cotton Mill, of Weldon, was granted a charter today, the capital being $100,000 authorized and $25,000 subscribed by W. T. Shaw, W. A. Pierce and others. The company has authority to operate cotton and woolen mills.

The foundation floor of the North Carolina Grand Lodge Masonic Temple is about completed and the work of putting down the first or street floor is under way.

The North Carolina Farmers' Alliance in annual session at Hillsboro the past three days elected the following officers for the next year:

President—J. E. Peterson, Goldsboro.

Vice President—J. A. McAllister, Lumberton.

Secretary and Treasurer—Geo. F. Parrott, Kinston.

Lecturer—H. M. Case, Swepsonville.

Chaplain—W. P. Cates, Mebane.

Steward—J. C. Bain, Wade.

Sergeant at Arms—Geo. T. Lane, Aurora.

State Business Agent—Geo. F. Parrott, Kinston.

The alliance adopted resolutions opposing immigration from foreign countries by solicitation or appropriation of State or department funds for that purpose; favoring State prohibition; favoring reduction of passenger rates and more equitable freight rates; for agricultural high schools in each congressional district; for holding farmers institutes under the county alliances; for establishing an agricultural school at Hillsboro; for co-operation in securing the substitution of cotton for jute bagging; resolution endorsing the action of the United States Department of Justice in proceeding against the American Tobacco Co.

Geo. F. Parrott who becomes secretary and treasurer and State business agent will establish his general office at Hillsboro.

Mrs. Mary L. Haynes of this city was painfully hurt yesterday while attempting to extinguish a fire at her residence on Martin street that had started from a defective stove flue. She climbed on the stove and fell off, striking her shoulder on a chair and dislocating it. She was painfully bruised and otherwise injured. The fire was put out by other members of the family before serious damage was done.

Sheriff F. C. Williams was here today from Buncombe county to deliver to the penitentiary Charles Miller and Jeremiah Walker, negroes who will serve respectively a life sentence for burglary and fifteen years for criminal assault on a negro girl.

Professor Darius Eatman has resigned the chair of pedagogy at Wake Forest College to take a course in that study at Columbia University, having obtained a scholarship there.

Alphonso H. Hayes, one of the four members of the famous Confederate drum corps, the only one in all the South, which has attended all Confederate general reunions in various parts of the South, creating distinct sensations at each, died at his home here today after a protracted illness. He was 59 years old and had tuberculosis. Although in very ill health, he was at the reunion in Richmond in May. The three surviving members of the drum crops are J. Lewis, Wiley T. Johnson and W. D. Smith.

THE GRAND ENCAMPMENT

(Special Star Telegram.)

Winston-Salem, N. C., Aug. 15.—The 60th annual sessions of the Grand Encampment, Independent Order of Odd Fellows of North Carolia, adjourned today, after having been in session since Wednesday evening. The encampment will meet in Asheville next year. The Grand Encampment was elegantly entertained by the Winston-Salem people, a feature of the entertainment prepared for the visitors having been the privilege of an inspection of the large factory of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company. The visitors were also elegantly entertained by Evangelist Lodge No. 27, Daughters of Rebekah, and were given an automobile tour over the city this afternoon. The Grand Encampment is delighted with the entertainment afforded. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Grand Patriarch—F. C. Dunn, of Kinston, N. C.

Grand High Priest—W. L. Smith, of Wilmington.

Grand Senior Warden—G. W. Bryant, of Durham.

Grand Scribe—C. H. Ramsey, Charlotte.

Grand Treasurer—Wesley Williams, of Elizabeth City.

Grand Junior Warden—W. C. Allen, Waynesville.

Grand Outside Sentinel—R. E. Cox, Kinston.

Grand Representative—A. F. Hall, Winston-Salem.

The sessions this year were will attended and the encampment enjoyed to its fullest extent the stay in Winston-Salem.

RAMSEY-HARDIN.

Morning Marriage Joins Two Popular Young People—Bridal Tour.

A marriage of much interest to many friends here and elsewhere was that of Miss Annie May Ramsey, an attractive young lady of this city, and Mr. Henry A. Hardin, of Manchester, Va., a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. C. Hardin, of Virginia. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and was witnessed by only a few intimate friends and relatives of the bride and groom. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. Hardin and bride left for a bridal tour north, including the Jamestown Exposition and other places of interest north. Returning they will be at home in Manchester, where the groom has a responsible position.

Mr. Hardin was formerly of this city and was in the general offices of the Atlantic Coast Line. He has a large number of friends here who will congratulate him upon the happy union which he has just formed for life. Miss Ramsey is much admired in a wide circle of friends in this city for her charming personality and splendid disposition. Her friends will give her up with exceeding great regret, hoping that her visits to her former home will be many and often.

Married Last Evening.

At the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Alexander W. Gaskins, No. 912 North Sixth street, last night at 8 o'clock, a pretty wedding ceremony performed by the Rev. W. L. Rexford, pastor of Market Street M. E. Church, joined in marriage Miss Hannah M. Gaskins an attractive young lady of this city, and Mr. Walter W. Riverbark, also of Wilmington. There were a number of friends to witness the pretty ceremony and the bride and groom received the happiest congratulations of many friends at an elegant reception which followed. Mr. and Mrs. Riverbark will make their home in Wilmington where they have many friends.

No Tidings Are Received.

Many friends were anxious yesterday when it became known from a late dispatch to the city papers that Miss Lucile Kingsbury, of Wilmington, had been injured in a wreck on the Southern Railway near Asheville, N. C. While the extent of her injuries are not known, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Kingsbury, can not believe that they are serious as they were unable to hear anything yesterday. This was partially due to the strike of the telegraphers and the inaccessability of the place to which the injured were carried. Many friends are hoping to hear assuring news from Miss Kingsbury today.

Baseball Next Week.

Followers of the sport will be interested and pleased to know that the manager of a picked team from the City Baseball League has arranged for three games with a strong team from Charlotte on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The dates have just been closed and everything is in readiness for the meet. Wilmington will try hard to take two out of three and all three, if possible.

Has Appendicitis.

Friends of Miss Carrie Myers in this city will regret to know that it has been necessary for her to go to the hospital for appendicitis. She underwent an operation by Dr. Burbank, and while she stood this well, there is said to be a likelihood of peritonitis, which friends are hoping wil not develop. She was resting very well according to last accounts from the hospital.

CONVENTION ENDED

North Carolina Retail Furniture Dealers Complete Their Sessions at The Beach.

AN OUTING ON CAPE FEAR

Visitors Had Delightful Day and Adjourned to Meet Next Year at Charlotte—Officers Elected. Resolutions of Thanks.

With an all-day trip down the river on the steamer Wilmington, including very pleasant visits to Southport and the government fortifications at Fort Caswell, and a brief executive session last night at the Hotel Tarrymoore, on Wrightsville Beach, the fourth annual convention of the North Carolina Retail Furniture Dealers' Association adjourned to meet next year at Charlotte. Greensboro extended an invitation to meet there in 1908, but a majority of the members favored Charlotte and the Queen City gets the convention. The report of the nominating committee made Wednesday night was unanimously adopted and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—C. W. Parker, Charlotte.

Vice Presidents—E. S. Hall, Reidsville; T. P. Dillon, Monroe; Geo. S. Boylan, Wilmington; G. L. Barnhardt, Lenoir; W. E. Brothers, Fayetteville.

Secretary and Treasurer—W. B. Summersett, Salisbury.

Executive Committee—W. T. McKoy, Charlotte; Geo. C. Royall, Goldsboro; W. T. Mercer, Wilmington; G. S. Tucker, Raleigh.

Finance Committee—Miles Goodwin, Raleigh; Jas. T. Porter, Charlotte; J. B. Ives, New Bern.

Traffic Manager—Max L. Barker, Salisbury.

Before adjourning the convention passed very cordial resolutions of thanks for courtesies shown and these resolutions were unanimously adopted. It has been a great pleasure for the Wilmington dealers to entertain their brethren from all parts of the State, and the local entertainment committee did all possible to give the visitors a good time. This committee was composed of Mr. George S. Boylan, chariman; Messrs. W. T. Mercer, G. D. Phares, A. C. Sneed, Geo. C. Royall and J. W. Carter.

POLICE COURT YESTERDAY.

Several Defendants Before His Honor, The Mayor at Noon.

A number of cases of more or less interest were disposed of in the police court yesterday. H. T. F. Wrede, proprietor of a saloon at Sixth and Red Cross streets, was charged with selling liquor to one young Jackson, of Mullins, S. C., a minor. He gave bond to the Superior Court in the sum of $50.

D. W. Teachey, a colored contractor, was charged with violation of the building laws in some construction work near Sixth and Wooster streets, the complaint having been made by Building Inspector Furlong. He was fined $25 and costs but took an appeal to the Superior Court. Inspector Furlong announces that he will hereafter prosecute all persons doing construction work not strictly in accordance with the building laws of the State.

A. C. Brown, charged with beating his 11-year-old son cruelly, was sent to the higher court under bond of $50. Brown is employed at the A. C. L. shops and the severe whipping of the boy is alleged to have occurred near where the family lives at Fifth and Taylor streets. Dr. C. T. Harper testified as to the injuries of the child and said that it was in fearful condition.

Willie Davis, the colored boy who has made a nuisance of himself at the Coast Line shed, was found not guilty of vagrancy, but was fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct. Three others charged with vagrancy were sent to the farm and to the roads for sentences of 30 days each.

MISS ETHEL MILLER DEAD.

Passed Away at Her Home Last Night After Protracted Illness.

Friends will regret exceedingly to learn of the death of Miss Ethel Marie Miller, daughter of Mrs. Annie J. Miller and a young woman held in the highest esteem by all in the circle of her acquaintance.. She passed away last night at 9 o'clock at the family home in this city, No. 401 South Fourth street, after a protracted illness.

Miss Miller's father was a well known druggist of Wilmington who passed away in 1893. She is survived by her heart broken mother, two sisters, Mrs. J. A. Brothers and Miss Alma Miller, and two brothers, Messrs. Carl and Herbert Miller. All the bereaved ones have the tenderest sympathy of many friends in the loss they have sustained.

The funeral will be conducted this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the late residence; thence to Oakdale Cemetery where the remains will be laid to rest.

Reunion at Rose Hill.

A reunion of Company B, 1st Battalion, North Carolina Heavy Artillery, will be held at Rose Hill Thursday, September 19th. Veterans of all commands and everybody are invited to come and bring baskets and have a good time.

BIG DAY AT EXPOSITION

North Carolina Had the Boards at Ter-Centennial Yesterday—Magnificent Review of Troops. Courtesies to Visitors.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 15.—North Carolina Day was observed at the Jamestown Exposition today, the attendance being estimated at upwards of 40,000. A military review of all the State troops this afternoon was the feature and tonight Governor Glenn and the North Carolina party was given a reception in the North Carolina Building. This was a brilliant affair and was largely attended.

The formal part of the exercises consisted of addresses by Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, Governor Swanson, of Virginia; Lieutenant Governor Francis D. Winston, of North Carolina, and President H. St George Tucker, of the Exposition Company. The attendance is said to have been the largest since the Ter-Centennial opened four months ago.

The special exercises of the day began at 11:30 o'clock in the Auditorium, the approach of Governor Glenn and party having been heralded by enthusiastic applause. Rev. Dr. Critzley offered prayer and the Third Regiment Band of Raleigh, played an inspiring number. Hon. G. S. Powell, president of the North Carolina Society, introduced President Tucker, of the Exposition, who formally welcomed the visitors to the exercises prepared in honor of their State. Governor Swanson's address was in behalf of the State of Virginia and was a masterly effort. Lieutenant Governor Winston immediately preceded the Governor of North Carolina, who delivered the principal address of the day.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Governor and party were dined at the Swiss Alps Village, following which a short time was spent in sight seeing. At 5 o'clock the visitors assembled at the reviewing stand, where Governor Swanson, Major General Grant, Admiral Harrington and the Governor of Massachusetts reviewed the troops from North Carolina and elsewhere which were as follows:

23rd United States Infantry, detachment of sailors from the battleship Missouri, Battery D, 3rd Regiment, United States Field Artillery; 2nd Squadron, 12th United States Cavalry; First Brigade, organized militia, State of North Carolina, comprising 1st, 2nd, and 3rd Regiments of Infantry, battery field artillery and North Carolina Naval Brigade.

LOCAL DOTS.

—The W. C. T. U. will meet this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the First Baptist Church. All members are requested to be in attendance.

—Walter Faison, colored, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer C. G. Jones, charged with vagrancy. He was run in from Eleventh and Market streets.

—By deed filed for record yesterday Roger Moore and wife transferred to Mrs. Susan E. Moore, Executrix, for $575, property on north side of Dock, 66 feet east of 12th street, 33x150 feet in size.

—Gainey Williams, a diminutive colored citizen, was locked up yesterday afternoon by Officer C. E. Wood, charged with throwing missiles in the street in the vicinity of Fourth street market house. He will tell the Mayor about it today at noon.

—The Wilmington tug Sea King left yesterday for Cape Lookout to be of assistance to the schooner Mary Sanford, reported ashore there since last Sunday. The revenue cutter Seminole has also gone to the aid of the schooner.

—The British steamer Lowther Range, 2,468 tons, Capt. Middleton, arrived yesterday to Messrs. Heide & Co., from Hamburg, via Charleston, S. C., with cargo of kainit and muriate of potash for the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company. The cargo is being discharged at the Navassa factory.

—The regular weekly shoot of the Wilmington Gun Club will be held this afternoon. A feature of the shoot will be a special event between Messrs. Boushee and Stokley to determine who is the winner of the handsome hand-painted vase presented to the club by the Hunter Arms Company and for which these gentlemen tied at the tournament held last week.

Seaboard Train Late.

The derailment of the tender of the Charlotte train, about 30 miles from Wilmington yesterday afternoon, caused a delay of several hours on the Seaboard Air Line. The train due to leave Wilmington at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon did not arrive until 9 o'clock last night. No one was hurt by reason of the accident.

Wreck on the Suburban Line.

On account of the derailment of car No. 28 at Ninth and Princess streets as it was being carried to the shed last night about 9 o'clock, traffic was blocked on the suburban line for three hours. Transfers were made at the scene of the wreck for a part of the night, though the schedule was very demoralizing.

HEROIC WOMANHOOD

Unveiling of Beautiful Shaft Erected to Memory of Cape Fear Heroines.

HON. CHAS. R. THOMAS SPEAKS

Eloquent Address Upon Historic Occasion at Moore's Creek Battleground Yesterday — Large Crowd Present.

(Special Star Correspondence).

Currie, N. C., Aug. 15.—It is estimated conservatively that there were between four and five thousand people gathered today on the historic battlefield of Moore's Creek, near here, to participate in patriotic exercises which attended the unveiling of a very handsome monument to the heroic women of the lower Cape Fear during the Revolutionary period. People came from far and near, including a large party from Wilmington who returned this evening. The weather was ideal for a celebration of the kind and the day was a perfect success in every particular, reflecting great credit upon President J. F. Moore, of the Moore's Creek Monumental Association under the auspices of which the monument was erected and unveiled, and the several committees which had in charge the various details of the arrangements.

It was a great success—the greatest celebration yet held on the battleground, one of State as well as of National importance. The day not only marked the erection and unveiling of the new monument but the completion of the repairs to the old one, made possible by an appropriation of $5,000 by Congress and $500 appropriated annually by the State Legislature. Of the Congressional appropriation much of the money has been expended in placing a new base under the old monument, laying out walks, building a new pavilion and otherwise beautifying the grounds.

The exercises today were held at the new monument and were opened with an invocation by the Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., of Wilmington. This was immediately followed by the presentation of the monument which was by former Representative Edmond A. Hawes, of Pender. In presenting the monument, Mr. Hawes said:

Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is my pleasure and privilege in behalf of the building committee of the Moore's Creek Battle Ground Association to present this monument, erected to the heroic women of the Revolution. The battles of war, apparently, have always fallen upon men, so monuments to heroes skilled in yielding the sword are nothing uncommon. But there is something peculiarly singular in connection with this monument we have met here today to unveil. In reading history I have never yet learned of a single instance where a monument stands upon a battlefield i the name of woman. But I am glad this association has seen fit to have the inscriptions read as they do. While comparatively few women have their names as a connecting link in the chain of history as Mrs. Slocomb, still they play their parts nobly at home. Thus fitting tributes should be paid them.

The battle of Moore's Creek Bridge was no small event in the Revolutionary war. In the words of Dr. C. Alphonso Smith: "It was the Rubicon over which North Carolina passed to independence and to constitutional self-government. The old monument with the names of Richard Caswell and Alexander Lillington, darkened by the duration of time, vivdly recall such men as James Moore. John Ashe and James Kenan as leaders of the Colonial troops. Thus this granite slab in recognition of woman will recall, too, one of the most potent factors of war. When just recognition to the heroes of the lower Cape Fear has been given, their names will have transcended into a part of national song and story. The monuments standing proudly upo this battlefield in the name of martyrs will not be to those gone by, but to the ever living and the ever loved.

On this green bank, by this soft stream,
We set today a votive stone;
That memory may their deed redeem,
When like our sires our sons are gone.

Spirit that made those heroes dare
To die and leave their children free,
Bid Time and Nature gently spare,
The shaft we raise to them and thee.

The acceptance in behalf of the Monumental Association was by President James F. Moore, who did so in the following beautiful language:

Gentlemen of the Building Committee:

"It is with feeling of mingled pleasure and pride that I, on behalf of the Moore's Creek Monumental Association and the State of North Carolina, accept from you this beautiful memorial to our Revolutionary women.

"I also accept and thank you, for the repair of this old monument.

"I fully appreciate the efforts of the Committee to record and transmit to future generations, the history of an

SOUTHERN REPUBLICANS FOR ROOSEVELT.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times notes that all the prominent Southern Republicans dropping into Washington are for a third term for President Roosevelt.

Sure, Mike. The Southern Republicans are for the offices and they know that they please Roosevelt by declaring for him or a man to his liking. Thus they make themselves solid. Your Southern Republican is a politician if he is not a statesman.

The Times' correspondent says none of the Republican leaders in the South are inclined to commit themselves to any of the Presidential candidates. Alll of the Federal officeholders and those who are seeking appointments for their friends are enthusiastic advocates of a third term for President Roosevelt, but farther than this they refuse to discuss the merits of the recognized candidates mentioned for the nomination.

It is noted that after a bitter fight in Kentucky, the Republican convention passed resolutions indorsing the President, and calling upon the party to nominate a candidate who would carry out the Roosevelt policies. Secretary Taft's managers insist that this is a practical indorsement of the big Secretary from Ohio, but the same claim is made by the friends of Senator Knox, of Philadelphia. New York has not been heard from upon this question, but it would not be surprising if the friends of Gov. Hughes argued that the Kentucky resolution vir tually calls upon the party to nominate the Chief Executive of the Empire State.

The Times' man correctly sizes up the situation in this fashion:

"Evidently the Republican leaders in the South are attempting to secure uninstructed delegations to the next Republican National Convention. It is true that they are talking Roosevelt now, but they realize that the President cannot accept another nomination without stultifying himself. They know that he has no intention of allowing his real friends to present his name to the convention, and they must realize that Mr. Roosevelt will not reconsider his determination to retire from the White House at the close of his present administration. But this will not prevent the Southern Federal officeholders from talking third term.

"By declaring themselves for the President, the Southern Republican leaders, who consist largely of a coterie of public officeholders, will prevent any real candidate from securing delegates south of the Mason and Dixon line. With alleged Roosevelt delegates the Southern leaders will be unhampered by pledges for any candidate, and thus will be in position to trade their support for political patronage.

"Through the pushing of the third term movement, politicians in the South will be able to keep the Republicans of that section from expressing their sentiments in the selection of delegates to the next National Convention.

"At the same time these tactics are expected by the Southern politicians to incur the friendship of the President, and thus enable them to control the Federal patronage at the disposal of the present administration."

The tactics are sure to please Roosevelt and will aid him in naming his successor. In lieu of it Southern Republicans know well that the will get good offices.

COMING SOUTHERN FACTORY CENTRE.

Besides the numerous advantages of the piedmont section of North and South Carolina for manufacturing purposes, the wonderful electrical developments in that region are bound to make it the manufacturing centre of the South, as it already is. Charlotte is the centre of it, and it is truly interesting to observe what is going on in and around that rapidly developing North Carolina city. The fine water powers of the piedmont are being harnessed up to transmit electric currents to all the manufacturing towns, and the operations make a story that surpasses romance.

In last Saturday's issue, the Charlotte Evening News contains an elaborate and intensely interesting and informing article on these electrical developments, and in the editorial columns of the News on Wednesday we get this:

"Last Saturday's issue of the News contained a story which means much for piedmont North Carolina, that of the great work being accomplished by the Southern Power Company. According to the story the Southern Power Company has already contracted to furnish power to 67 cotton mills in this section, 20 of which are new ones.

"From time to time the News has elaborated on the vast good being accomplished by this company and the other electrical development companies in the piedmont. It is well nigh impossible to comprehend the vast work these companies have undertaken. It is difficult to realize fully what is meant when it is said that 100,000 electrical horse power is being generated somewhere. But there is little trouble in understanding the significance of these facts when their fruits are told of as in Saturday's stories.

"Ten years will see a marvelous change in the piedmont and electricity will have wrought this transformation. Water courses that have rolled complacently for years of little benefit to persons living in their territory, have been harnessed by the hand of enterprising capitalists and the result is, as was told Saturday, that the piedmont is being dotted from center to circumference with multitudinous enterprises and industries.

"It is interesting to follow the progress made by these gigantic development companies, that are transforming this section of the south, even though the extent of their operations can scarcely be comprehended."

ELECTRICAL PROFESSOR.

The Star recently noted the advance steps being taken at the State University, and it is equally gratifying that nothing in way of advancement is being neglected at the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, at Raleigh. An important feature at the A & M. College is technology and electrical engineering is one of the specialties. A highly competent professor of electrical science has been secured.

The Raleigh News and Observer tells us that the new professor of Electrical Engineering is Prof. Wm. J. Moore, of East Orange, N. J. He is a graduate of the Brooklyn High School, of Rutgers, and of Prof. Stevens' Institute of Technology. He has had large experience in practical electrical work in New York City and New Jersey. For four years he has been Assistant Professor of Electrical Engineering in Stevens' Institute of Technology in charge of all the laboratory and experimental electrical work, and frequently in charge of the electrical department of the colege. Previously to being assistant professor, he was for three years an instructor in electricity in the same college. He is considered one of the best teachers, experimenters and organizers in Stevens Institute, as well as a practical electrician in all lines.

COAST LINE'S LIBERAL OFFER.

Realizing the benefit of a Y. M. C. A. to the railroad, the Atlantic Coast Line proposes to invest $3 to every $1 subscribed by its employes for a Y. M. C. A. building at Rocky Mount. At least that is what The Star gets from the Twin County Echo, published in the growing young city of Rocky Mount, one of the Coast Line's chief operating points. The Echo says the proposition is meeting with an enthusiastic response. A mass meeting was held at the Rocky Mount opera house on Sunday and 200 membership cards were signed up, insuring, at $5 a year, $1,000 towards the building. In addition to that the pioneer committee which is pushing the enterprise raised $214.56 in cash.

The indications are that the Coast Line will have to come across with several thousand dollars before the committee gets through its work.

The Echo well says that the proposed Y. M. C. A. building "means much for railroad men living in Rocky Mount and for those who have 'layover' periods here." The building, it is stated, will be a nice structure and will contain rooms and facilities for washing, bathing, reading room, bed rooms, entertainments, religious meetings and other features.

GOOD REASONS, WE HOPE.

The Hon. William J. Bryan, in a recent speech at Charles City, Md., gave three reasons for predicting that the next President would not be a Republican. The Nebraskan said:

"First, the evident growth in popularity of Democratic ideas; second, because of the dissension among Republicans; third, the utterances of Republicans who admit that they have no chance for success unless the proper man is chosen; and the different factions of the party disagree on the proper man."

Let us hope that Col. Bryan reads the signs of the times correctly.

—One of the results in the new rate law recently in effect is that it makes the longest way round the shortest way through for people going from Charlotte and vicinity to Asheville and nearby points. Formerly the shortest route was by way of Spartanburg, but by reason of the inter-State rate that route is now abandoned in favor of Statesville and Salisbury.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—Those Korean delegates who went to the peace conference at The Hague did so by order of their master, the Emperor, recently deposed. They had no choice. It was to go or lose their heads. And now, under Japanese influence, one of them is to lose his head anyway and the others are to be imprisoned for life. The story is that these poor puppets were played by two white men against each other. These white men are Americans. One is the adviser of the Emperor of Japan and the other is the adviser of the royal court of Korea. To them a few 'heathens' hanged makes no difference in the game they are playing.—Savannah News.

Belle of Virginia
BLENDED RYE

When a man goes for a drink of Belle of Virginia Whiskey he hurries because he knows he will have a fine drink, and when he comes away he smiles and smacks his lips because he has had it. Belle of Virginia is a blended whiskey—a rye whiskey carefully and scientifically blended from fine, pure, old whiskies. It's a really good honest article and to those who like a blended whiskey it will give satisfaction clear down to the ground.

heroic and honorable past.

"Gentlemen, I am well aware, that it is the fulfillment of an untiring work on your part and so far as my knowledge extends this memorial to our Revolutionary women is the first in the State of North Carolina, to be dedicated to such a purpose.

"We have now, on this sacred old battlefield, two monuments, one erected 1857 to the heroes of the battle of Moore's Creek, the American patriots; the other dedicated to day to to the heroic women of that eventful period. In all of the great achievements of man, woman has ever been ready to perform her part.

"There is no higher duty devolving upon us as members of the Moore's Creek Monumental Association, than to perserve the names of our patriotic men and noble women, and it should be the constant aim of the Association to make this battlefield as it deserves to be, famous in American history; so that a visit to it, may rekindle the fires of patriotism which actuated our forefathers.

"Gentlemen of the Association, to your care, and to your protection, do I now commend these sentinels of liberty and patriotism, which bear testimony of erdnous struggles of our brave ancestors; and as the cycles of time shall sweep over future generations, may the young of both sexes on reading these inscriptions, emulate the noble sentiments which governed those heroes and heroines of the American Revolution.

"Ladies and Gentlemen, let us cast our eyes above and behold the flag of our commonwealth, let us ever remember that North Carolina was the first of the Thirteen original colonies to declare for separation and independance.

"We can not too often repeat, that Hilton, a few miles below here on the banks of the lower Cape Fear, was the birth place and cradle of American liberty.

"The heroic actions of the patriots of North Carolina before and during the Revolution, should be studied by every reader of our Nation's history.

"Last but not least, let us love and cherish the beautiful stars and strips which so proudly float over our battlefield today, and we should ever be willing and ready to assemble ourselves under the folds of that flag, and pay homage to the American patriot, whose sacrifices and bravery have given to us the grandest country in all the world."

Then followed the formal unveiling of the monument by Misses Lillian Colvin and Katie Bannerma, after which the beautiful shaft was decorated by thirteen young ladies of Pender, representing the thirteen original colonies, directed by Misses B. B. Lucas and Jennie Hawes. "The Old North State" was sung and after music by the band, which was from Wilmington, the large assemblage repaired to the new pavilion, where the exercises were concluded with the address of the day, which was by Hon. Chas. R. Thomas, Congressman from the Third North Carolina District, whose heart and soul has ever been in the work of the Moore's Creek Monument Association. Mr. Thomas was presented by Mr. Moore and was never heard to finer advantage.

Speech of Congressman Thomas.

Congressman Thomas said among other things that he rejoiced to be present upon this glorious and auspicious occasion to see the fruition and accomplishment of the hopes of the citizens of Pender county and the Cape Fear section of North Carolina.

He congratulated the Moore's Creek Monumental Association upon the completion of their labor of love in rescuing the Monument from decay, erecting the beautiful new Monument to the "Women of the Revolution," and the entire success of their efforts. He spoke of his own very great happiness in having served his people and aided in the accomplishment of the results for which he had so long labored, and the perpetuation to all generations through these Monuments of the memory of the first victory of the Revolution and the heroic men and women of the Cape Fear section. He regarded the Battlefield and the occasion as now of more than local interest and importance, for it had secured the national recognition to which it was entitled as among one of the most important battlefields of the Revolution.

He paid a high tribute to Senator Overman, who rendered such valuable aid in the Senate in putting the appropriation in the Army Bill.

"These Monuments pointing heavenward," he said, "will stand for all times as incentives to the people of North Carolina, and especially our young men and women, to higher aspirations in our individual and national life.

"The Romans, according to Plutarch, were accustomed to erect monuments to commemorate the illustrious achievements of their ancestors. These were set upon the Hill, and the Roman youth were bidden by their parents to study the lives of their distinguished ancestors as they saw them carved in enduring marble, and they were told that they, too, would have a life monument erected to them and the record of their life work carved upon it if they have emulated the virtues and practiced their example.

"All the nations of the world commemorate by statues and monuments those events in history which have led to independence, or marked epochs in their life.

"The Battle of Moore's Creek Bridge, the first victory of the War of the Revolution, has not received in the history of our Country its just merits, nor has it been heralded to the world as the battlefield of New England and yet the Battle of Moore's Creek was as important as any conflict between the Colonists and the British upon New England soil. All true-hearted Americans take a just pride in the glorious achievements of

SITUATION IN STOCK MARKET.

Better Feeling—Falling Off in Iron and Steel Industry.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 15.—Support of an earnest and substantial character saved today's market from another spasm of liquidation and bear attacks such as characterized the previous day's late operations. Assistance was forthcoming almost from the outset, but not until prices had receded from 2 to 4 points in the speculative issues. The downward movement was speedily arrested, however, and extensive covering by shorts folowed the news that sheets of the Stock Exchange members had passed through the clearing house without a hitch. After the first hour there were frequent periods of dullness, with slight relapses. Our securities were practically without support at London, where quantities of the steel stocks, Reading and Union Pacific were sold at market recessions. The weakness of the steel issues was concurred with reports that our manufacturers had received many cancellation orders.

The local market more than held its earrly recovery, best prices of the day being recorded late in the session. The closing was strong though comparatively inactive.

According to the recognized trade authority the steel and iron industry show many signs of approaching halt. Similar conditions apply in the various electrical manufacturing lines the recession of business already having resulted in the discharge of many hands. A state of deadlock exists in the money market. Rates for long-time maturities were slightly easier, with business in very light volume. The 6 1-2 per cent. rate for over-year loans was again purely nominal today, most of the business being done on a 6 3-4 per cent. basis. The local banks show a gain of about $1,500,000 for the week in their operations with the sub-treasury, but this does not cover direct shipments of currency.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value were $1,936,000. United States 4's advanced 1-4 per cent. on call. Total sales today, 907,000 shares.

MEANS TROUBLE IN ALABAMA..

Federal Court Enjoins State Officers From Enforcing Railroad Laws.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Montgomery, Ala., Aug 15.—An injunction was procured last night by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company from Judge Jones of the United States Court, restraining the State from enforcing the commodity rate law and the 2 1-4 passenger rate law until the Federal courts have passed on the validity of the various acts. Every sheriff in Alabama and every solicitor are restrained from arresting or indicting employes of the company who violate the terms of the acts.

This a challenge to Governor Comer, was recently announced that he would arrest and prosecute every railroad which violates the laws, despite the action of the Federal courts.

CENTRAL AMERICAN WAR.

No Information in Washington Concerning Rumored Trouble.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Aug. 15.—The news from Mexico of an impending conflict between all the Central American States except Costa Rica, was received here with surprise and incredulity, for up to this time all the advices from that quarter of the world which have reached Washington were to the effect that the esprit caused by the last Nicaraguan attack upon Acajutla, Salvastor, had been smoothed down under the combined influenced of the government of Mexico and America.

A cablegram was received at the Navy Department today from Commander Gobe, of the gun boat Yorktown, dated at LaUnion, Salvidor, stating that all was quiet in that section with no signs of trouble.

POPE COMPANY FAILURE.

Judge Pritchard Appoints Another Receiver at Asheville.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Asheville, Aug. 15.—As the result of the failure yesterday of the celebrated Pope Manufacturing Company for several million dollars, there was signed by United States Circuit Judge Pritchard here this afternoou an order appointing Egbert J. Tamblyn a co-receiver with A. L. Pope. The bill was filed in the Circuit Court at Baltimore where there are about three quarters of a million dollars of assets to be administered. This bill is ancilliary to the original filed in New York. Many other bills, it is said, have already been filed in different States and the same ancilliary receivers have been appointed.

The American bark Prussia from Norfolk, March 20, for Port Townsend, has been wrecked in the Bay of Flindero, in the Straits of Magellan. The captain and four sailors of the vessel were drowned.

The directors of the Standard Oil Company in New York yesterday declared a quarterly dvidend of six dollars a share. This was unchanged from the corresponding quarter last year.

Rumors that former President Cleveland is ill at his home in Princeton, N. J., are untrue, according to his physician. Mr. Cleveland went driving yesterday afternoon and apparently was as well as usal.

A dynamite factory at Doemtz at Grand Duchey of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Germany, exploded yesterday. One life is known to have been lost, eight persons are missing and are regarded as killed, twenty persons were dangerously injured and sixty were slightly hurt.

Roger Wetmore, son of Senator Wetmore of Rhode Island, was arrested here in Washington, D. C., yesterday charged with having run down and seriously injuried Mrs. Mary Chase with his automobile Wednesday. The woman is in a serious condition but it is believed she will recover.

James A. Conley was shot and killed at 88 Commerce street, Grand Rapids, Mich., yesterday afternoon by Magdalene Conley, his wife. The man went home at 2 o'clock and found the door of the house locked. He was climbing through a window when the woman shot him. It is said another man was the cause of the trouble. The woman was arrested.

An administration ticket for the election to the board of trustees of the New York Life Insrance Company at the election to be held April 8 of next year was nominated at a meeting of the board today. With two exceptions all the candidates are members of the present board. The new men are Williams R. Innes of New York, and Rowland G. Hazard, of Peacedale, R. I.

STRIKE IS UNCHANGED.

All Operators Out at Asheville—The Situation.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 15.—There were no developments of moment in the telegraphers' strike in this city and at nearby points today. All sides to the controversy continued optimistic in their public expressions.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—An order for a general strike of all union telegraphers which President Small of the Telegraphers' organization, promised would be sent out ten minutes after his arrival in Chicago, did not make its appearance tonight. Mr. Small arrived in Chicago early in the evening and an hour later was in conference with Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Decided improvement was made today in the condition in the Associated Press wires. The entire leased wire circuit between San Francisco and New York was placed in operation shortly after 6 o'clock tonight. Up to that time the Western wires had terminated at Denver. A number of operators who went out on Monday returned to their work during the day.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 15.—The three remaining operators in the local office of the Western Union walked out this morning, leaving only the manager, George R. Calvert, in charge.

Youthful Misinformation.

Among the answers to questions at a recent school examination were the following interesting examples of youthful misinformation: "Gross ignorance is 144 times as bad as just ordinary ignorance." "Anchorite, an old fashioned hermit sort of a fellow who has anchored hisself to one place." "The liver is an infernal organ." "Vacuum is nothing with the air sucked out of it put up in a pickle bottle. It is very hard to get."

Only Two In Office.

A man in a certain township was elected constable. The members of the family were much elated and could scarcely contain themselves with their newly acquired civic honors. At last one of the smaller children said to the wife, "Ma, are we all constables?" The mother replied: "Gwan, child! Nobody's constable but me and your pa!"—Atchison Globe.

The Real Cause.

Tommy—What was you bawlin' about last night?

Willie—W'y, when paw and me got home from fishin' maw didn't have supper ready, and I whimpered about and paw licked me.

AN OLD TIME GAMBLING EPISODE.

[Original.]

When I was a little chap living in Cincinnati I was delicate. We had relatives in New Orleans, and at one time I was sent down there for my health. The only route was by the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, and I made the trip in one of the big steamers of that day. The main feature that I remember was seeing men sitting in the cabin playing cards, with beautifully colored chips. Why they used the chips I was too young to understand. In this connection I also recall their leaving the tables occasionally to go to a little box about the size of a "Punch and Judy" show, placed forward in the cabin, where they drank drinks of (to me) beautiful colors.

The Mississippi was one vast gambling resort from Cairo to New Orleans. There were flatboats fitted up for the purpose that floated slowly down the river, tying up at any point where there were people to be fleeced, and wherever there were planters there were victims. One afternoon one of these flatboats descending with the current was seen from the shore not far below Memphis to be turning in to shore. The only power aboard was in the arms of men and a couple of long sweeps or oars on either side. Those on the starboard side flashed in the sunlight, while the tiller oar left a ripple astern. The boat in this way was brought ashore, and a hawser was got out and tied to a stump upon the river bank.

That night Julian Maran, a young planter, stepped aboard the boat and, with one or two of his friends who were already there, opened the game. Maran had sold his plantation and negroes and was going to Baton Rouge to marry his sweetheart and take up his residence there. The money he had received was in bank except a hundred dollars, with which he proposed to amuse himself on the flatboat. He added considerably to his hundred dollars during the evening and, being a chivalrous fellow, considered himself bound to go back the next day and give the bank a chance for "revenge." In a few days the fortune he had in bank was every cent transferred to the safe in the flatboat.

That was a curious age. If there are chivalrous professional gamblers now, we hear nothing of them. There were chivalrous gamblers then, and they made their influence felt. Perhaps it was because gambling had not then been left so far behind other means of making a living as it is now. The gambling propensity has developed into more legitimate forms. Be this as it may, as Maran was parting with the remnant of his fortune, Gustavus Sterling, a professional gambler, who had once been a respectable planter, boarded the flatboat. He had left "the profession" and with his winnings had bought Maran's plantation. When Maran had parted with his last dollar, Sterling walked up on to the river bank with him.

"Permit me to say, suh," he said to Maran, "that I have seen many fools in my life, and yo' ar' one of the biggest. Even when a gambler plays fai' the advantage is with him. The men on this boat are of the lowest kind of swindlers."

Maran, maddened, was about to retort angrily, when Sterling pulled a roll of bills from his pocket and continued: "Yo' go down tha' tonight with this and start in again. Don't play to win. Play only to be in the game. I'll be tha', and take a hand myself. Have a gun in yo' pocket, suh."

Maran tried to express his gratitude, but Sterling turned away and went to seek a few of the former's friends. That evening Maran, Sterling and two others whom Sterling had asked to be present opened the game on the flatboat. The owner of the outfit and two assistants were of the party, making seven in all. They had played an hour or more when a jackpot was opened, and the pile on the table grew enormously. Suddenly Sterling clapped one hand down on the money and whipped out a gun with the other. At the same moment Maran and his two friends drew their weapons and covered the three professionals. The coup was effected so quickly that not one of the latter was able to draw.

"Put yo' arms on the table," ordered Sterling, raking off the money into his hat. Then, setting the hat on a chair, he went to the owner of the boat and began to search him.

"H-m!" he remarked, drawing several aces held by a clasp attached to a rubber cord in his sleeve. "A cheap device, but good enough to fool asses with." Then, going to the next man, he took a pack of cards from his pocket, held them up to the light and continued:

"Marks big enough to see in the dark. All the court cards are plain on the back as on the face."

After going through the three men and finding evidence of fraud on all, he politely asked the owner for the key of the safe. The man, having a pistol muzzle within a few inches of his ear, complied. Sterling opened the safe and counted out an amount equal to Maran's losses and handed it to him. Then he paid what losses the others had made from the money in the hat. He was himself a winner, and this amount he took from his pocket and tossed it on the table.

When the party left the boat they cut the cable, and it floated down with the current. Its profits and losses at its last landing place had been nil.

Maran left the next day for Baton Rouge and was married soon after his arrival. Had it not been for Sterling's interference he might have become a professional gambler himself.

New England and the great battles fought upon her soil, and the memory of Concord and Bunker Hilll and of Lexington

"Where once embattled Farmers stood,

are a part of the glorious heritage of the whole country. But what the Battle of Lexington was to the Northern Colonies the Battle of Moore's Creek was to the Southern Colonies. By its imperishable glory and renown has been conferred upon North Carolina. At Moore's Creek North Carolinians repelled alone the first invasion of her soil, as at King's Mountain, with the aid of Virginia and South Carolina, they repelled the second invasion upon her soil. The Battle of Moore's Creek was leading up to the Congress at Halifax April 12, 1776, the date of which is carried upon our State flag, which Congress declared for the independence of the Colonies, and it was also the forerunner of the American Declaration of Independence July 4, 1776. From the date of the battle at Moore's Creek February 27, 1776, the hearts of the Colonists North and South were strengthened and the desire and hope for independence grew stronger."

He gave a clear and thrilling account of the battle which was fought on the side of the Colonists by the Minute Men of the Neuse Region, wearing upon their hats silver crescents inscribed "Liberty or Death," and by the Regulars under Colonel Moore, the whole patriot army being led by Colonels Caswell and Lillington, paying in this connection a high tribute to the men of the Cape Fear section and the battalions of Minute Men from Newbern and Wilmington. He eulogized the modesty of North Carollina, but also her unflinching courage in all the Wars of the Country. He paid a high tribute to the women of the Cape Fear section in the War of the Revolution, including the "Revolutionary Women" generally, such as composed the "Edenton Tea Party," Mrs. Ashe, Mary Slocumb and others whose patriotism and heroism were equal to that of the men.

"This monument," he said, "erected upon this battlefield in memory of the women of the Cape Fear in the Revolution, white and pure and stainless as the good women it commemorates, is the first recognition so far as I am informed they have received by monuments, of marble, but enshrined in the hearts of the men of North Carolina, patient, loving, long suffering and brave, they need no monuments to perpetuate their memory, and none can express our appreciation of these brave men and women of the Revolution. Let these monuments pointing heavenward be an incentive to future generations of North Carolina and the Cape eFar Section and the citizens of the whole nation, and let this battlefield, hallowed ground as it is, be an altar of 'freedom,' where we may kindle afresh the fires of patriotism should they ever begin to expire. The descendants of the men who fought here will ever honor and respect the nation and fight in its defence and for its flag, but willl never submit to injustice and oppression from any source, nor permit their rights to be invaded by the decrees of of Federal Courts or by those individuals or corporations who would attempt to override and ignore the laws of this State.

"The Governor of North Carolina and the men of North Carolina have in their veins today some of the spirit which dominated the patriots who fought upon this battlefield more than a century ago in the cause of American Independence."

"Nor shall their glory be forgot
While Fame the record keeps,
And Honor marks the hallowed spot
Where Valor proudly sleeps."

After the speech came a bountiful picnic dinner, provided by the good women of Pender county. The large crowds were delighted with the repast. Excellent order prevailed during the day, a large measure of this having been due to Chief Marshal Jno. R. Hawes and fifty mounted aides, who led the procession from the station at Currie to the grounds. The exercises were interspersed with the singing of patriotic songs and inspiring music by the band. "The Old North State," "Dixie," "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," having been blended in fine unison, inspiring the large crowds in attendance and contributing much towards making the day the red letter occasion that it was.

A pleasing incident of the day was the presence of Capt. T. W. Slocumb, of Goldsboro, who is a great grandson of Mary Slocumb, one of the heroines to whom the monument is erected, and a grandson of Jesse Slocumb, who represented the Newbern district in Congress in his time.

The Monument.

The monument is of blue Winnsboro granite, surmounted by a staute of imported Italian marble in carved likeness of a beautiful woman posing "Rememberance," being six feet tall, the whole monument towering to a height of 15 feet, standing on a marble base, five feet seven inches spuare. Its weight is more than 25,000 pounds and it was erected at a cost of something over $2,000, being the execution of the Wilmington Granite and Marble Works, of this city, Mr. R. D. Tucker proprietor as successor to H. A. Tucker & Bro. Mr. Frank Meier, of the works, has been at the battleground all the present week, superintending the work of construction and it is declared by all who have seen it to be one of the most handsome pieces of work of its kind seen in this locality, occupying a commanding position on the historic spot and bearing striking testimonial to the brave women of the lower Cape Fear during the Revolutionary period. The inscriptions on the shaft are as follows:

Front side: "To the honored memory of the heroic women of the Lower Cape Fear during the American Revolution, 1775-1781."

On the reverse side: "Unswerving in devotion, self-sacrificing in loyalty to the cause of their country, their works do follow them; and their children rise up and call them blessed."

On fourth side:

"Most honored of the names recorded by the Historic Association, is that of
MARY SLOCUMB,
Wife of Lietutenant Slocumb,
Riding alone at night sixty-five miles to succor the wounded on this battlefield her heroism and self sacrifice place her high on the pages of history, and should awaken in successive generations, true patriotism and love of country.
Virtutes majorum filiae conservant.

On the third face is this inscription: "This monument was erected by the Moore's Creek Monumental Association in the year 1907."

President J. F. Moore, of the Association has worked faithfully for this monument and the affair was a crowning success for those efforts which have linked his name indissolubly with all that portains to the historic spot which he has done so much to preserve and beautify.

History of the Appropriation.

The celebration today upon Moore's Creek Battle Ground is not only interesting, but more than a matter of local importance. It interests the whole State, and has also become National in its scope and character. When Pender County became a part of the Third Congressional District of North Carolina, Congressman Chas. R. Thomas determined, if it was within human power, to secure national recognition for the famous battlefield of Moore's Creek Bridge, upon which was won the first victory of the war of the Revolutionary, February 27, 1776. He immediately introduced in the 58th Congress following up the efforts which had been made by Congressman Bellamy a bill asking an appropriation to repair the monument and beautify the grounds around the monument. At this time the base of the monument was crumbling and the monument was going to decay, weather beaten and stained. The grounds around the monument were cared for, as well as possible with the small annual appropriation granted by the State Legislature and through work of the citizens of Pender county; but an appropriation from Congress was necessary, not only to rescue the monument and grounds, but to give national recognition of this great battlefield. The bill of Congressman Thomas was for an appropriation of $10,000.00. A favorable report was obtained for this bill in the 58th Congress and Mr. Thomas advocated the passage of the bill, based upon the committee report in an eloquent speech upon the floor of the House of Representatives, giving the history of the battle and appealing to the patriotism of the American Congress to grant recognition. However, he was unsuccessful in securing the appropriation in that Congress. In the 59th Congress, having the appropriation in view he solicited an appointment upon the committee on Library, obtained another favorable report upon his bill. The attitude of Speaker Cannon, however, was adverse to the passage of monument bills and it looked as if the appropriation would again fail, but Mr. Thomas with his skill and experience as a Legislator conceived the idea of aiding his bill, which had been favorably reported from his committee in the House to the Army Appropriation Bill. The bill having had a favorable report from the House Committee gave it a standing before the Committee on Military Affairs of Senate. Mr. Thomas appeared in person before the committee on Military Affairs in the Senate and ably aided by Senator Overman who was a member of the Senate Committee, succeeded in having his House Bill placed upon the Army Appropriation Bill, as a rider in the Senate, securing at the same time a promise from the Chairman of the Military Affairs Committee in the House, that he would agree to amendment of the Army Bill in conference. So the Moore's Creek Battle Ground Appropriation became an accomplished fact, due to the skill, energy and legislative tact of the Representative of the Third District, aided by Senator Overman in the Senate.

At the last session of the Legislature the Member of the Legislature of Pender county, Hon. T. H. Wells, secured an annual appropriation of $500 to care for the monument and grounds.

When Mr. Thomas secured his appropriation in the Army Bill he did not cease his labors but had the money paid over at once to the Governor of the State, who transferred the amount of Five Thousand dollars ($5,000) to the Moore's Creek Monumental Association under whose supervision the work has been done. Mr. Thomas also suggested and it met with the hearty approval of the Association that, from the surplus funds, after having repaired the monument and improving the grounds, there should be created a separate monument upon the battlefield in memory of the heroic women of the Revolution, and in special memory of Mary Slocumb, whose descendants are scattered all over this district. It will be remembered that Mary Slocumb was the patriotic woman, who rode on horseback from her home at night sixty-five miles to the battlefield to rescue her husband, who she dreamed was dead, and who nursed upon the day after the battle the wounded and dying soldiers, returning as she came to her home without an escort.

The inscription upon the monument which were prepared by the Wilmington Colonial Dames, include one to Mary Slocumb.

This is the first recognition so far as we know, of the patriotic women of the Revolution, and the Congressman in the conception of this idea and the Moore's Creek Monumental Association in carrying it into execution deserves the thanks and praise of the patriotic women of North Carolina, the State, whose record was foremost in the cause of liberty during the Revolution, as in all subsequent wars of the country's history.

Congressman Thomas deserves, and will receive, no doubt the applause and thanks of the women of his District, as well as the men of the Cape Fear section descended from its her-

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 15.—Cotton rallied after early weakness today with the close steady, net unchanged to four points higher. Sales were estimated at 175,000 bales. The opening was easy at a decline of 3 to 9 points in response to lower cables, rumors of showers in the Southwest, the advance in the Bank of England discount rate, and renewed weakness in the stock market. Some of the bigger shorts were taking profits at the decline, steadying the market until toward midday when official weather reports were received showing showers, ranging from a trace to a little over half an inch at eight out of nine points reporting in Texas. Following this, the list sold off to a net loss of about 8 to 11 points, but recovered later on the better tone of the stock market and covering. The close was a couple of points off from the beston active months with net gains on new crop positions. Trading was quiet and mostly local, with Wall Street houses moderate sellers early.

Receipts cotton at the ports today, 718 bales, against 322 last week and 2,669 last year; for the week, 10,000 bales, against 7,440 last week, and 31,195 last year. New Orleans receipts today, 33 bales, against 30 last year.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands, 13.25; middling Gulf 13.50; sales, 3,063.

Futures opened easy and closed steady.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scienists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period, that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being strongly urged; careless then being fatal to longlevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine, that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, Druggist. 50 cents.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over 60 years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for Diarrhoea. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, and take no other.

MRS. EDDY INSANE SAYS MR. HOWE

Lawyer Declares That Mental Trouble Influences Every Action of Her Life.

CONTROLLED BY DELUSIONS

Mr. Howe Declared That Christian Science is Not a Religion, But a System of Medicine—Hearing Continued.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Concord, N. H., Aug. 15.—The term "general insanity" as applied to the condition of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy by DeWitt C. Howe, counsel for the plaintiffs in the accounting suit against Mrs. Eddy, was formally withdrawn by Mr. Howe at today's hearing before the masters who are considering the question of the Christian Science Leader's competency. Mr. Howe explained while the courts of this and other States use this phrase repeatedly to describe such a condition, it is not the technical term used by alienists.

At this point Judge Aldrich, speaking for the masters, said that the question to be determined is that of competency to manage property, not one of insanity, general delusion or religious delusions.

"We will show, your honor," declared Mr. Howe, "not a monomania on the part of Mrs. Eddy, but a condition of insanity which influences every action of her life."

Judge Aldrich asked if the masters had and more right to decide against Christian Science as a religion than against Catholicism or spiritualism.

"Christian Science is a system of medicine, not a religion," replied Mr. Howe. "In so far as Christian Science is speculation, it can not be called a delusion, but when it is based upon supposed facts which can be proved not to be facts, then it is a delusion."

Mr. Howe sought to differentiate between beliefs which is speculation entirely and therefore not capable of proof and those which are susceptible of proof.

As a step in the proof that her alleged delusions affect Mrs. Eddy's feelings toward her relatives, Howe argued to the masters that it is competent to show how these delusions affected her feelings toward her intimate friends and first supporters.

At the afternoon session Judge Aldrich, for the masters, made the following ruling:

"We are all of the opinion that the evidence tending to show Mrs. Eddy is in a delusionary mental condition in respect to forces operating upon her relatives and next friends and through them upon her business if of a character to show mental impairment and to influence her in business affairs, is admissible. This is limted to alleged delusions which reasonably connect themselves with respect to the management of property affairs. The majority of the board think that as these alleged delusions relate to conditions of mental prejudice, going back to 1890, is not remote."

To this ruling both sides excepted.

The ruling shut out most of the depositions taken in Boston, but under it were introduced various letters written by Mrs. Eddy to Rev. Dr. Nixon, who in 1890 was in charge of the Christian Science publications. These letters introduced by the next friends, show that Mrs. Eddy believed that evil mental influences were being exerted to hinder her work, and to cause her son to form the purpose of breaking her will upon her death and stopping further publication of her works.

The hearing was adjourned until tomorrow.

FIFTY ACRES ON FIRE.

Disastrous Conflagration At Famous New England Resort.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 15.—Fire which started tonight in the Hotel Olympia, a four story building, spread until at 9:45 o'clock it was raging over a territory of about fifty acres in which are located some of the larger hotels and Summer cottages on the shore front. The hotel Fiske, the Hotel Alberta, the Aldine House, the Lawrence House, the Lewiston Hotel and several other hotels were on fire and it was estimated that from 50 to 75 cottages were also burning. The loss is estimated now at fully half a million dollars.

Old Orchard is full of Summer visitors but a careful enquiry fails to show any loss of life so far.

The Boston and Maine Railroad station has been abandoned. More than one hundred buildings were in flames at that time.

TAFT WILL VISIT JAPAN.

Will Stop There On His Way to the Philippines.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, Aug. 15.—Secretary Taft will spend three or four days at Yokohama, Japan, on his way to the Philippines. He iwll disembark from the regular line steamer at Yokohama and remain there until the time for the departure of the steamer for Manila, which leaves from Kobe, to which place the Secretary will go by rail from Yokohama.

Yesterday Mr. Aoki, the Japanese Ambassador, had a brief talk with the Secretary about his coming trip, the object of which was to offer the facilities of the Japanese government in reaching the railroad terminal at Nieuchang, but as the Secretary is going to Vladivostok direct from Manila in an American vessel the Ambassador's offer was declined with thanks.

TRUST BUSTERS WILL KEEP MUM

Attorney General Bonaparte Refuses to Tell About Pursuit of Corporations.

AFTER LAWBREAKERS ONLY

Report That Government Had Let Up ..On Harriman Not Authorized. Only Those Who Have Violated Law Need Fear.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Washington, Aug. 15. — Annonucement was made today by Attorney General Bonaparte that an important conference would take place next Monday at the Department of Justice, in which the subject of the promise of immunity from prosecution given to the Chicago and Alton Railway officials b District Attorney Morrison, would be discussed.

The Attorney General declined to discuss at this time what further action he intended to take against corporations that he believed to be in violation of the law.

"Is it possible for you to indicate what suits, if any, the Department of Justice may institute against corporations or individuals?"

"It is utterly impossible," he replied. "I cannot discuss that matter at all. I will say this: There is no reason for any officer of any corporation or enterprise, whatsover, to apprehend trouble with this Department, if he is quite sure he has not violated the law."

Attorney General Bonaparte was asked what action if any, might be anticipated by the Department of Justice against Edward H. Harriman further than the proceeding instituted against him and Mr. Kahn in the United States District Court in New York to compel them to answer questions propounded by the Interstate Commerce Commission."

"That is a subject which we cannot talk about," he replied. "I now am considering the report of the Commission on the Harriman case. I have reached no conclusion."

He was reminded that an official statement had been made public recently by the Department of Justice in which it was said that "no other proceedings against him (Harriman) and no proceedings against the Union Pacific have either been determined upon or are now under consideration."

"That statement was not authorized, Attorney General Bonaparte responded.

"As to the Harriman case, I can say no more than that it is being considered."

THREE KILLED 16 INJURIED.

Terrible Accident to Trolley Car on Long Island.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 15.—A work train on the Long Island Railroad backed into a crowded street car at a crossing on Coney Island avenue, Brooklyn, today, hurled the trolley from its tracks and causing the death of three passengers and the injury of 16 others.

The crossing at this point is hidden from distant view on the one side by a high board fence and on the other side by a row of trees. Stationed at the crossing is a flagman, who, according to the motorman, and the engineer of the work train, signalled each a clear track. All three men were arrested.

The conductor of the trolley car could not be found following the accident. He is charged by the contractor for whom the work train was being operated, with having violated the rules of the street car company in having failed to run ahead and make sure that the way was clear before sending his car over the crossing.

The fatally injured suffered skull or internal injuries. Those at the hospital sustained broken bones and contusions, but probably will recover. All were residents of Brooklyn.

ARGUMENT IN PEONAGE CASE.

Judge Purnell Delivers Blow to Defendants at Beaufort.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 15.—Evidence was closed in the peonage case against E. A. Kline in the United States Court at Beaufort today. After a number of witnesses were examined and nothing new developed, counsel for the defense called the attention of the court to section 3431 of the Revised Code of North Carolina, intimating their intention to rely on it. Judge Purnell informed them that he would charge the jury that the section was repugnant to the constitution of the United States and the State of North Carolina. Argument was then begun, former Governor Jarvis opening for the government. The trial will be concluded tomorrow.

Germans Beat Us in Races for Emperor's Cup.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Kiel, Germany, Aug. 15.—The German Sonderklasse yacht Wannsee, admirably handled by Herr V. Protzen, of Berlin, won today's race in the series of contests for Emperor William's cup, beating the Marblehead, managed by Sumber S. Foster, which was second, by one minute 21 seconds. The Marblehead would have won had it not been for the fact that the light air which favored her, changed to an 18-mile breeze, which favored the eGrman boats. Each of the German yachts has now won a race and not one of the Americans has scored a victory.

RATE LITIGATION COMES UP AGAIN

BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

Former Governor Aycock and Other Attorneys for State In Attendance. Depositions Will Also Be Taken in Washington.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 15.—The dispute between the authorities of North Carolina and the Federal courts over the observance of a 2 1-4 cent rate law reached another stage today when former Judge Montgomery, of North Carolina, who was appointed by Judge Pritchard of the Federal Court, as special master to take depositions, sat here today and heard the testimony of several witnesses. General Counsel Alfred P. Thom, of the Southern Railway Company, of Washington, represented his company's interests at the session. The testimony was taken behind closed doors at the office of the Southern Railway in this city.

Counsel representing the North Carolina Corporation Commission at today's hearing included former Judge James E. Shepherd, Walter E. Daniels, and F. W. Woodward. Former Governor Charles B. Aycock, of North Carolina, and Speaker E. J. Justice, of the State House of Representatives, were also present.

Vice President H. B. Spencer, of the Southern Railway, who is the son of former President Spencer, was a witness today. He was questioned at length as to the Southern Railway, its cost and equipment and many minor details. Depositions will be taken in Washington and other cities after the hearings here have concluded.

J. M. Barr, formerly president of the Seaboard Air Line, now a lumber merchant of North Carolina, and who was called as an expert on railway operations, testified that in his opinion the carrying of local freight in North Carolina costs three times as much to operate as through trains and the local trains were frequently partly loaded. Mr. Barr said that a higher rate was charged by railroads in the State for carrying local freight than for through freight, but he did not believe the difference in price was sufficient to equal the increased cost of local freight traffic. Mr. Barr said that he did not believe a fair profit from passenger traffic was possible at present in that State, and that possibly there was no profit whatever.

It was brought out that passenger traffic within the State was somewhat mixed and that a number of so-called through trains on the Southern Railway between Washington and Atlanta made stops at towns and way points in the State, os that as a matter of fact it was not possible to calculate with exactness the cost of carrying local passengers on these trains as distinct and apart from through passengers.

Following his examination by Counsel, Mr. Barr was interrogated by Speaker Justice. "Do you know," said the latter, "that at one time there existed what might be called a gentleman's understanding to the effect that the Seaboard Air Line should refrain from extending its line into certain North Carolina territory under fear of reprisals by the Southern Railway?"

"There was no express understanding," Mr. Barr replied. He was then asked whether he knew that certain business houses in the State had actually been driven out to seek other fields for business because the Southern Railway had built up a monopoly in various parts of North Carolina.

The witness said that he did not know that to be a fact. To other questions intended to show the Southern's supremacy in North Carolina, Mr. Barr in most instances pleaded that he was not in possession of sufficient actual facts to testify accurately regarding them.

Mr. Barr was on the stnd until late in the afternoon and his testimony covered a mass of details as torailroad management and operation in North Carolina.

Hearing adjourned until tomorrow morning.

BONDHOLDERS ARE UNEASY.

Afraid New Purchasers of Georgia Central Will Be Foxy.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Aug. 15.—Representatives of the holders of $15,000,000 first, second and third income bonds of the Central of Georgia Railway Company have assembled in this city for the purpose of coming to some understanding with Marsden J. Perry and Oakleigh Thorne, who recently purchased the road as to the treatment which the income bonds are to have at the hands of the new management. It has been feared by the bondholders that the interest on their securities, which is payable only if earned, may be cut off by the new controllers of the property, and it has been alleged that excessive charges out of earnings have been made for construction and new equipment.

Conferences with Messrs. Perry and Thorne were held yesterday. A committee of five, of which Mr. Scott, of the Richmond banking firm of Scott & Stringfellow, is chairman, was appointed at this conference to consider the suggestions offered and to report upon them to their associates at an adjourned meeting held this afternoon.

Various plans for meeting demands of the bondholders were discussed, but, according to a member of the bondholders' committee, no decision was reached. Another meeting will be held tomorrow, when it is expected that some definite proposition will be submitted to the income bondholders, probably in the form of notes extending over a period of several years.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.

Frederick Manuell, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '99, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he had hair all over his head. On July 2 he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.
